From:	Ehud Barak <ehbarak1@gmail.com>
To:	Fegel Gary <gary@fegel.com>
CC:
Date:	Sat, 4/4/2015 12:04:54 AM
Subject:	Fwd: Chag Sameach

Hi Gary
Chag Sameach once again.
Let's talk of it tomorrow afternoon.
Best
EB

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

> From: Gary Fegel <gary@fegel.com>
> Date: April 3, 2015 at 07:12:02 GMT+3
> To: Ehud Barak <ehbarak1@gmail.com>
> Subject: Re: Chag Sameach
>
> Great - glad to hear.
>
> Btw, we move very fast with FST now and we are optimistic to sign and pay next week. It's a good deal for us I think and we are looking forward to get active as soon as everything is signed.
>
> On a complete different note I wanted to discuss with you how I can get active somehow to do something for our tribe. I would like to explain to you what my thoughts are and maybe you have a good idea.
>
> The combination of
> - increased Antisemitism especially in Europe
> - the absurd Radicalism of the Islamic world such as in the case of ISIS
> - the new reality in regards to Iran and its consequences for other Arabic States and of course Israel
> - the naive approach the U.S. is taking as far as the Muslim world and the Middle East is concerned (and many other "yes" saying countries such as all the other P5+1)
> - the worlds increased hostility towards Israel and its potential consequences
> - the situation in the UN which is turning slowly but surely against Israel (and the Palestinians won't give up, why should they)
> - developing new geopolitical realities such as Syria, Yemen, Irak to name a few
> - and last but not least the still completely unresolved Palestinian issue with no solution in sight
>
> This situation is worrisome. Of course there were good times and bad times in the past and things change. Maybe in two years from now we have Hillary or Jeb Bush, Sarkozy and other more Jewish friendly decision makers again- but the above issues won't go away. If the United States is ready to negotiate with a terror state like Iran (and shake hands and hug each other and smile into the camera with each other) while they simultaneously attack Israel verbally, then something in the world order has changed.

The world generally hates the Jews, this will never change. Sometimes they tolerate us more and sometimes less - but the masses will always hate us.

I'm not Israeli and I don't know Hebrew and I'm not even zionistic, not sure I want to even live in Israel ever. But as a jew, there must be something I can do.

Anyway, maybe we have some time to discuss when we see each other next time.

Happy Pessach and all the best
Gary

> On 3 Apr 2015, at 04:16, Ehud Barak <ehbarak1@gmail.com> wrote:
>
> Hi Gary
>
> Same for you,Yael and Ella
>
> We wish you Happy and Kosher Pesach.
>
> Looking forward for a good year for the young members of our families as well as for all of us.
>
> I've greatly enjoyed my GrandKids. Clear evolutional jumps on each generation.
>
> So much still to do.
>
> Best
>
> Ehud
>
> Sent from my iPhone
>
> > On Apr 2, 2015, at 21:52, Gary Fegel <gary@fegel.com> wrote:
> >
> > Hi Ehud

Hope all is well with you and Nili and you had a good time with your grandchildren in NY.

We wish you and all your family Chag Sameach and a very kosher Pessach!

Yael, Ella and Gary